How to Connect with us:

√Would you like to receive JustLove, the monthly enewsletter of the Office of Peace, Justice and Ecological Integrity? Send a request to pjei@scnj.org

√Like us on Facebook:
Search “Office of Peace, Justice and Ecological Integrity.”

√We also maintain another Facebook Page for Religious on Water, a coalition of religious orders that advocate for the integrity of water, especially the Atlantic coastline.
Search “Religious on Water.”

√Would you like to receive our email Action Alerts which recommend actions on our current priority issues: Immigration Reform, Human Trafficking, Ecological Sustainability, and Peace and Non-Violence? Send a request to pjei@scnj.org

√Would you like to join with a group which prays, reflects and acts together on our call as people of faith to work for ecological sustainability? Join our Sister of Charity Ecospirituality Reflection Group which meets monthly for study, sharing and prayer.
Send a request to pjei@scnj.org

√ Participate in our ministry for Spanish-speaking women Las Samaritanas which offers periodic retreat days on themes of spiritual and personal growth and a monthly support group for women called Agua Viva.

Participen en nuestro ministerio para las mujeres de habla hispana Las Samaritanas, que ofrece días de retiro sobre temas de crecimiento espiritual y personal y un grupo de apoyo mensual para las mujeres Agua Viva.

√Want to help in the fight against human trafficking? Raise awareness by distributing the Sisters of Charity Trafficking card which has a Prayer to End Human Trafficking on one side and trafficking information and a hotline number on the other. The cards are available in English, Spanish and Haitian Creole and are free of charge. Send a request to pjei@scnj.org

√Host a Workshop: Fr. Terrence J. Moran, Director of the Office of Peace, Justice and Ecological Integrity, is available to offer programs at your location, in both English and Spanish, on Catholic Social Teaching, Climate Change, Ecospirituality, Human Trafficking, Immigration Reform, Multi-cultural Awareness, Non-violence and Peacemaking. We can also host day programs for your group at Convent Station. For more information, Send a request to pjei@scnj.org
